PLEASING RESULT

Most citizens in this area were pleased with the results of Tuesday's Democratic primary election. The significance of the balloting lies in the fact that it shows that Virginians are desirous of continuing the general policies prevalent during a long series of state administrations.

We salute the victors and wish for them every success in carrying forward the sacred traditions of the Old Dominion.

THE CAR AND STATUS

A recent view of the market impact of the compact car, by Charles E. Edwards, of the University of South Carolina, gives a hint that at long last the automobile may be losing its place in American life as a status symbol.

Noting the tremendous success of the compact car in this country, a car which is cheaper than the average-size American - made car, and the fact that so many families now drive more than one car, it is suggested that the big status symbol car of former years may be losing some of its place on the American scene.

With, for example, the husband and wife driving separate cars, and one available for the children (which is the case in a number of families), less thought may be given to one car as a status symbol.

It was not too long ago when families were almost rated on the basis of the one family car. They had to flash a big car, even if they could not pay their rent, or if the house needed a paint job.

Some believe that Americans are now changing their status attitude. It is not "how big" but "how many?"

STUDY THE BIBLE

There are a great many people in the world who do not believe everything that is in the Bible. There are others who take every word and punctuation mark literally, and attempt to live a life strictly within the confines of what they consider to be the Bible's rigid teaching.

We have no quarrel with either philosophy. The main purpose of our writing is that we think the Bible holds great possibilities for every citizen. One need not be of any particular denomination, nor need he be of any particular creed.

The Bible has enough good logic, good sense and inspiration to attract and benefit all, whether they be Christians or not. We sometimes overlook the fact that the Bible contains a great source of happiness, and peace of mind for those who are troubled and confused in the fast pace of life today.

The old custom of reading the Bible periodically is not followed by many Americans today. However, we suggest you take your Bible off the shelf each night, or as often as you can, and read something from it. You will be surprised — or you will have brought back to your memory the values of the Bible and its teachings.

Alfalfa Cutting May Be Affected By Weevil

Some alfalfa in Virginia may have to be cut sooner than under normal conditions because of weevil infestations.

Dr. J. O. Rowell, entomologist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, says the alfalfa weevil is lingering on this year past the time it usually disappears from alfalfa fields. In counties where this is happening it may be preferable to cut alfalfa earlier than it usually would be cut. Hot weather, and removing the alfalfa foliage now furnishing protection from the heat, should help ease the problem.

Japanese beetles are beginning to turn up, and Dr. Rowell says once they become active they'll be around until September, with peak damage during late July and early August. He advises giving particular attention to protecting roses, grapes, raspberries, and ornamental plants. Control information is included in Bulletin 2151, "The Japanese Beetle: How To Control It," available from county agents.

How to use milky spore disease for grub control is a oft-asked question. Dr. Rowell says milk spore disease dust should be applied only to turf known to be infested with Japanese beetle grubs. Several years are usually required before any control is noticed. Be sure to read and follow label directions. Brand-name products of milk spore dusts are generally available from garden and lawn supply centers.

So far, insect infestations on the Eastern Shore are running about two weeks behind other years.
